

THE UNIVERSITY OF NAMIBIA LAW REVIEW

"Rendering a forum for legal discourse"

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS FOR VOLUME 3 (1) AND GUIDELINES TO CONTRIBUTORS

The University of Namibia Law Review welcomes submissions for potential publication by students, academics and other legal scholars to engage in academic writing on any relevant legal matters incorporating a Namibian or international theme. The Editorial Board welcomes all students, staff and other legal scholars to submit manuscripts for publication in its first issue of volume three due in 30 June 2017. The Law Review is open for Articles, Case Notes, Comments, Legislative Summaries and Book Reviews.

ALL SUBMISSIONS SHOULD COMPLY WITH THE FOLLOWING REQUIREMENTS:

1. Submissions must be written in British English. Gender neutral language is encouraged.
2. Upon submission to the Law Review, it is ipso facto presumed that the submission is original and has never been previously published in any journal. Unpublished thesis and dissertations are welcomed for consideration.
3. Only in exceptional circumstances will the Editorial Board accept previously published material.
4. The Editorial Board reserves the right to forward submitted manuscripts in confidence to an expert referee(s) for evaluation in a blind peer reviewing process.
5. Upon submission and subsequent approval, the author transfers copyright over the manuscript to the Law Review.
6. All submissions must be sent via e-mail to unamlawreview@gmail.com or unamlawreview@unam.com and must be in both Ms Word and PDF format. No hard copy submission will be considered.
7. All Articles must be between 5,000 - 12,000 words; including footnotes. An abstract of not exceeding 250 words should be included.
8. Legislative summaries and case notes should not exceed 5,000 words, including footnotes.
9. Book or Journal reviews should not exceed 10,000 words, including footnotes.
10. All manuscripts submitted must conform to the referencing style of the UNAM Faculty of Law, therefore authors are encouraged to familiarise themselves with this referencing style. The Referencing Style is available from the Law Review website.

Deadline for Submissions is 30 June 2017
